

Proceeds to Worawa Aboriginal Girls College.

OPEN GARDEN
11th & 12th November 2017

Warwick and Paulette describe their garden.

"It's a country garden of about 1.2ha in the Yarra Valley, with views in all directions. It has evolved through 18 years, with the first phase completed in early 1999.

Robert Boyle designed it for us to preserve the views as much as possible yet provide sufficient windbreaks to afford protection from north and south winds. It includes a formal garden, crabapple lawn, croquet lawn, walled garden, birch walk, rose beds, an orchard and vegetable garden".

10 AM till 4.30 PM.

$10 per head and under 18's free with an adult.

Ridgefield - 58 Boundary Road, Coldstream

Enjoy the garden and social event with homemade marmalades and chutneys, coffee, Devonshire tea, wine sale, BBQ and plant sale.

Worawa Aboriginal Girls College.

Worawa is a boarding college for aboriginal girls and mainly girls that are significantly disadvantaged.

An objective of the school is to provide education and social development plus to maintain, and enhance, the cultural heritage of the girls.

The school has boarders from year 7 to 10 and has support from a number of private schools so the girls can continue into years 11 and 12. There is provision for later university placement. www.worawa.org.au
